

Stop, drop and roll

IT WAS an exciting week for some of the students at South Newman Primary School. On Wednesday morning a very special visitor dropped in.

Fireman Steve, from the Newman Fire Department, dropped by the school with his fire truck to show the children what fire fighting was all about. It was an entirely hands on experience and the kids from pre-primary were able to try on a real fireman's jacket, they put out a fake fire with a real fire hose and even had a turn at sounding the sirens.

Fireman Steve finished the morning off with an important discussion about fire safety. It was great to see that many of the kids are already fire conscious and are familiar with actions such as stop, drop, roll, and dialling 000 in an emergency.

BELOW LEFT: Dylan Armstrong was beside himself with excitement – a real fire hose in action! A tight grip was needed. Maybe one day he will be a real fireman!

Sorry day arrives

Upon the closure of the apology ceremony, the women at Parnpajinya including Nola (above) prepared a morning meal of damper. In years to come these children will be able to say that they were there on this significant day in Australia's history. Photos: Brydie-Lee
